DEEP OSCILLATION® Highly Effective Relief From Lymphoedema

"Having seen my trusted chiropractor for a Physio pod treatment targeting Lymphoedema in my legs, I experienced amazing results. Overnight the severe swelling reduced significantly, my legs felt lighter, cooler and much more comfortable.

I was so impressed that I immediately contacted Mary and Julie, the Physiopod team to buy a machine. Their customer care is exceptional, emails and calls are answered promptly and professionally, and an excellent virtual training session hosted by Julie is included in the service. My husband and I are now very confident in using the device and we feel reassured that we have great support going forward.

We recently travelled to Tenerife which involved a four hour flight and two weeks in hot weather. As a Lymphoedema sufferer this would normally have been a painful and difficult experience, but using Deep Oscillation Personal Basic (aka Physiopod) made the trip possible without discomfort. By treating my legs the day before flying, I was able to have a comfortable journey with little swelling, and the results lasted 2-3 days. Over the fortnight we continued treatments (approximately 15 minutes each leg) every few days, which controlled the swelling. I also felt much less self conscious around the pool.

We were able to take the Physiopod abroad as part of hand luggage. Julie provided a letter for customs but we weren't asked for documentation, and we had no issues getting through security checks.

The day before the return journey it was particularly hot, we hadn't used the Physiopod for a few days and my legs did swell to the point that I could barely get fitflops on my feet. Having the Physiopod there for relief was invaluable. By the next day the swelling was low again, I could wear trainers and despite a long day with lots of walking/queuing/heat and a four hour flight, I was comfortable and pain free.

Owning a Physiopod enables me to take control the Lymphoedema symptoms, giving me confidence and widening the boundaries of what I can do. I would highly recommend the product and team!"
